" That Gentleman will prevail upon some of us to " him?" the Agreement: My fell was rempted to at " Way Yeller Lay , and Hiers given, That if I would * give Way, I the dil find my Account in it. My An-" Iwer was Ref. in. ", I would not. So Lexpert no Fa-* v to from him. The whole Try il will depend upon which Side his most P tience. I mikelno Doubt * the French will refrom burning as long as they can s • but very long they come of the Cour People may · but have Patience until they are forced to Bay; in 4 that Cafe we find granthe Vallery : That I floor id a not define et, were we all time amous; but That · I doubt: And the more, but hat I perceive a great * Alteration in fome, for wart of the Presence: . That Refleciar feems now to be taken off. I HO ! I. T fee by the inclos's Objections to

* So net I'd is Proposals, that I have expressed my felf with all the Eurosthes I well can; I can but do my Part; I with every Body were of the same Mind; but we are too many to do Good; Were we fewer, would be much easier to agree.

THUS fir Mr. Volonor .- Bur it fiell remains to acquaint the Readers. That one of the greatest Difficulties the London Merch outs it prebended they had to encounter, we, to bring the Our Ports into some fuch. Meafares as they their elies were going upon ; without which their Indo wours would be see dered ineffectual. To obvitte This, they had writ to all. the Out Ports of England and Society, to which any Tobacco is Imported, and had received Answers from most of them before II fo Lord n; wherein they find, they were very glad to heer that the Londan Merchants were endervouring it forme Me ins for the Relief of Trade; and officed them that they would reddily concur with them therein; and ad-3ed, that they believed it could not be doubted, but that they would readily do Ail in their Power toads